The Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks were entertained at luncheon on Thursday in Detroit by Mr. Philip McMillan. They left in the afternoon of that day for Mackinac Island, where they have a cottage for the remainder of the summer. Mackinac is a favorite resort with well-known Indians.

They will then go to the Chevy Chase Club, and meet a few of their acquaintances who remain in town. Mrs. McGowan is with her sister, Mrs. Landstreet, in her summer home. They are cousins of Mrs. Arthur Lee.

Mrs. Downey, wife of Maj. George Downey, who is spending the summer in the Green Spring Valley, came over to Washington yesterday afternoon with Miss Sheridan, of Mount Savage, Md., who is also spending her summer in that valley. They dined with Maj. Downey at the Chevy Chase Club, and met a few of their acquaintances who remain in town. Mrs. McGowan is with her sister, Mrs. Landstreet, in her summer home. They are cousins of Mrs. Arthur Lee.

Mr. J. William Henry entertained a small company at dinner at the Chevy Chase Club last evening.

Mrs. Compton, wife of Dr. William Penn Compton, accompanied by her two sons, left yesterday for Seabright, N. J., to spend the next six weeks in the summer home of Mrs. Compton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harriot, of Brooklyn.

Dr. Jones will remain here for a fortnight.

Mrs. Marie Burns, who is spending her summer at Overall, Va., recently met with an accident which has proved painful, but not dangerous. Her favorite mount, which she was riding in the country, slipped under her foot while she was resting with some friends by the roadside, and she was confined to the house for some days.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blount, who make their home with Mr. Blount's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Blount, at "The Oaks," their beautiful place in Georgetown, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, a few weeks ago. They are all spending the midsummer at "The Oaks."

The marriage took place in Cumberland, it is believed, as the young people had gone there for a visit, with no announcement of their intentions until the ceremony had been performed, when they were to their home. THE FUNERAL OF DR. FRANKLIN T. HOWE.
The funeral of Dr. Franklin T. Howe, for many years connected with the Evening Star and one of the best-known and most highly esteemed newspaper men of Washington, took place yesterday afternoon.

Many friends paid the last tribute to the dead. The casket was literally covered with floral offerings, which came from his associates in journalism.

Brief services were held at the home in Brookland at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Father Southgate, assisted by Rev. Father Eckmond and Rev. Father Marks, of the Franciscan Monastery.

The body was escorted to the Shrine of the Sacred Heart, Fourteenth street and Park road, where Rev. Father McGuffee, assisted by Rev. John Holsman, the music was especially touching and impressive, and called to the minds of all that Dr. Howe was a lover and patron of music, and recognized as one of the best musical critics at the Capital.

The choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light," which was followed with "O Divine Redeemer," sung by Miss Mary King. The body was placed in a vault at the Congressional Cemetery. Chesapeake Bay Excursions.

The novelty of the combined electric line and steamboat excursion from Washington to Annapolis by way of the high-speed cars of the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Railway and the steamer Emma Giles, from Annapolis out into the Chesapeake Bay, has met with much favor among excursionists in Washington. The cool ride on the Chesapeake Bay, with its salt breezes, is particularly attractive. This is now the only Chesapeake Bay water trip that can be had easily by Washingtonians. Heretofore people have had to go to Baltimore by steam roads and walk several dusty miles in order to get back home. It is possible now by the electric line to reach the bay in an hour and step from the car direct to the steamer. These excursions will run on Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday.

POPE ASKS FOR INTERVIEW WITH THE CARDINAL AT ONCE.

Rome, July 31.—Cardinal Gibbons, who with a number of other prelates arrived here from New York, is now resting from the fatigue of his journey. He has notified the Vatican of his presence in Rome, and the Pope has expressed a desire to see him immediately. The audience probably will take place tomorrow.

Many visitors, including a number of Americans, have already called on the Cardinal to pay their respects.

The Cardinal was last in Rome five years ago, when he attended the conclave that elected the present Pope.

DIAMONDS WORTH $300,000 LOST ON THE LUSITANIA

At Least Mrs. "Joe" Lewis Thought Them Lost Until the Purser Found Them Under Safe.

New York, July 31.—Mrs. "Joe" Lewis, better known, perhaps, as Fannie Ward, made the Lusitania, which arrived here today, a "treasure ship" by bringing over in a little satchel diamonds worth $300,000. She created great excitement aboard the giant liner, too, when she thought she had lost her gems after a concert in the main saloon. Mrs. Lewis furnished a sketch at the entertainment, and appeared with her brilliant array of precious stones. Before retiring for the night she gave them to her maid with instructions to have them looked up in the safe.

When she could not find her receipts the next morning and the purser could not find the satchel in the safe, Mrs. Lewis was almost hysterical. Then one of the passengers picked up the little slip of paper, but the jewels could not be found. The assistant purser was summoned immediately and fished the satchel out from beneath the safe.
